Will do. And FYI, we still plan to clean up all the responses (no track changes of course) and put them in the side by side format with the letters but we typically save this step for the very end because it's harder to edit the responses when they are in that format. And the file size increases significantly.

I will let you know once we have the bracketed letters uploaded.

Asha, the RTC's submitted do not have the comments in them, just the responses. I tried to obtain the bracketed comment letter/pdfs to facilitate ours and counsel's review; however, the naming convention you used for those was too long. I cannot copy them or move them because the County's system has a restriction on long file names. I need your firm to provide all of the bracketed comment letters to us in one folder with abbreviated names – the letter and number we used to name each one would suffice as a title, like this picture:
