

Next Steps

Opportunities for Public Involvement

We have received inquiries from interested community members who not only want to know the current status but are also interested in future opportunities for public input. As soon as the Draft Program EIR is complete, the public can look forward to a number of public opportunities to learn more about the Master Plan and Draft Program EIR, and to provide additional comments after they've had a chance to review the documents. We encourage everyone to sign up for email updates to make sure they are receiving the most current information about the next Public Workshop and other public involvement opportunities.