Guajome County Park is located in the coastal community of Oceanside and has a little bit of everything that San Diego County offers. Two ponds attract a wide variety of migratory birds and serve as home to a variety of fish that will test the skills of any angler. 4.5 miles of park trails meander through diverse Southern California habitats such as woodlands, chaparral, wetlands, and mixed grasslands. 8 miles from the Pacific Ocean, the park is close to many entertaining and historical points of interest.
