Hi Bill,

I've located your parcel on the attached file with a blue x, just to the left of the lower left-side of the larger orange area which is the western portion of the Los Robles alternative site.

I will place you on our notification list for future hearings concerning this project.

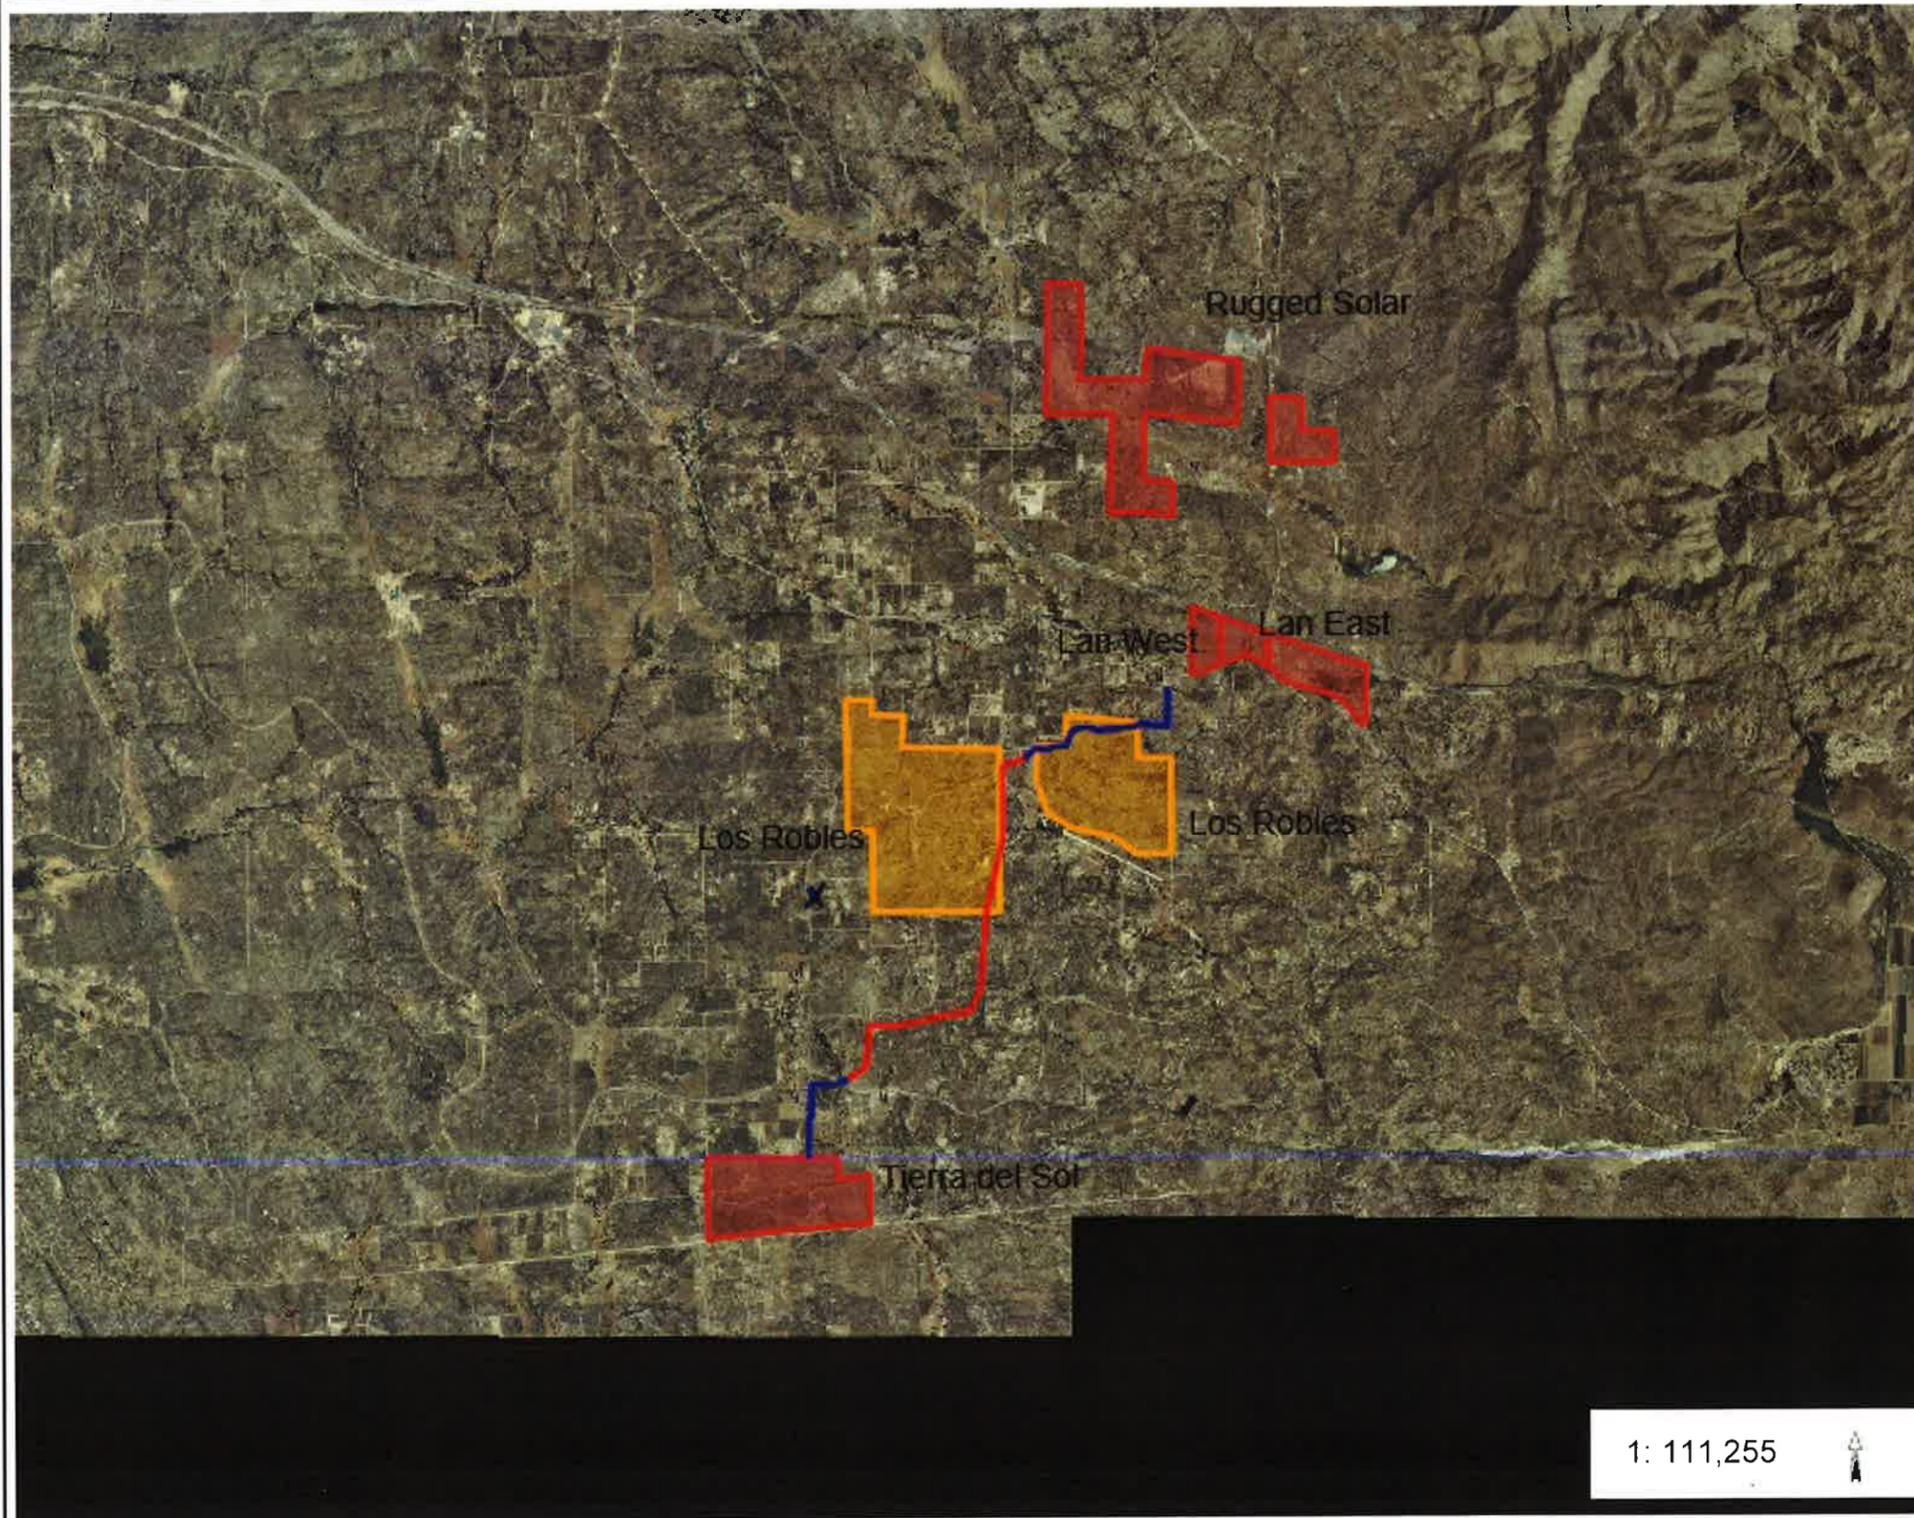

Please also know that the project documentation is currently out for public review (until February 17, 2014) and you are welcome to review and provide any comments you may have to me. Project documentation is located on our internet site, at the Campo-Lake Morena or Jacumba libraries, and at our offices at the address below. I've attached the legal ad / public review notice for the project which includes the project documentation internet address and the addresses of the libraries.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,
