EOC Information & Resource Management

An Overview of WebEOC 7.1

Web EOC - Benefits

- Easy to Learn - Easy to Use - Easy to Remember
- Low Expense to Buy, Own, and Maintain
- Highly Flexible – Designed to Adjust to your Command System
- Unlimited Users & Displays
- User Expandable - User Definable - User Maintainable

The screenshot displays a web application titled "211 Events Display" running in a Windows Internet Explorer browser. The interface shows a list of 211 events, with the following details visible:

Event Title	Priority	Status	Source
Water Rescue	2. Medium	Fact	City Fire
Plane Crash	High	Internal Use Only
Tornado	3. High	Fact	info

Each event entry includes a record number, the user who created it (e.g., Tricia Toomey or Stephen Rea), and the original timestamp. The interface also features navigation controls at the bottom, including "Page 1" and a "Disable Refresh" checkbox.

Unique WebEOC Features

What is a Significant Event?

1. Event Status – The Exercise has started
2. Infrastructure Failure - Bridge is out, Building is damaged
3. EOC or Shelter Status – Open/Closed
4. Information - Evacuation location
5. Situational Awareness - Latest update on the fire, Hazmat spill update
6. Current conditions – Hurricane is 10 miles away

Best Practice: Do not include “Questions” as significant events – Use the Message feature of WebEOC instead

---

When should I use Messaging?

1. To confirm a request - Did you send the Liaison to the incident command post?
2. To request information - Is the hospital on bypass?
3. To confirm receipt - Here is that file you requested.
4. To inform outside of WebEOC - The EOC has been Activated. (Sent to the .com/.gov addresses)

eMail is not a replacement for a telephone call or an equivalent of posting to Significant Events
