Michael,

I am following up on an email from Ryan Waterman (attached) regarding the Soitec Solar Development project and more specifically the Tierra Del Sol Solar project adjacent to the US/Mexico border.

We want to ensure that we are keeping lines of communication open with DHS on the ongoing processing of this project. We would be willing to set up a call with County staff and the project applicant to discuss any specifics on the project if you wish. We are also nearing the release of this project for public review. We will be sure to notify DHS of the availability of the public review documents.

Thank you,

Ashley

Michael,

I hope all is well with you.

We're continuing to process the Tierra del Sol Solar Project in San Diego County, which is adjacent to the border. We understand your office would be the appropriate contact point to solicit comments on the project.

The County would like to have a brief call with you to open lines of communication and to solicit any feedback you might have. The County personnel on the call could include Ashley Gungle, the project manager for the project, Robert Hingtgen, the EIR coordinator, and Jarrett Ramaiya, a supervisor at the County. I've cc:ed Ashley and Jarrett on this email.

Would you be open to having a short call sometime in the next several weeks? Due to our prior communications on the project, I agreed to facilitate setting up the call.

Best regards,

Ryan R. Waterman
