ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

NCAT y NRCS are proud to present the 8th annual statewide sustainable agriculture conference. All presentations will be in Spanish.

After two consecutive years of hosting this conference online, we are happy to be able to bring people together again in person. This year's conference has expanded to include two full days of education and networking. Day one will center around farm tours in the Escondido area; dDay two of the conference will include an exhibitor area, networking opportunities, and presentations on topics relating to conservation, organic, and regenerative agricultural production and business management.
