Policy / Procedure / Protocol

- D. The denial shall be in effect until all requirements for certification or renewal are met. If a certificate expires before renewal requirements are met, the certificate shall be deemed a lapsed certificate and subject to the provision pertaining to lapsed certificates. An individual who is a member of the reserves and is deployed for active duty with a branch of the Armed Forces of the United States, whose California EMT certificate expires during the time the individual is on active duty, or less than six months from the date the individual is deactivated/released from active duty, may be given an extension of the expiration date of the individual's EMT certificate for up to six months from the date of the individual's EMT certificate upon compliance with the following provisions:
1. Provide documentation from the respective branch of the Armed Forces of the United States verifying the individual's dates of activation and deactivation/release from duty.
 2. If there is no lapse in certification, the requirements for renewal must be met. If there is a lapse, the requirements of a lapsed certification must be met.
 3. Provide documentation showing that the CE activities submitted for the certification renewal period were taken no earlier than 30 calendar days prior to the effective date of the individual's EMT certificate that was valid when the individual was activated for duty and no later than six months from the date of deactivation/release from duty.
 4. For an individual whose active duty requires the use of EMT skills, credit may be given for documented training that meets the requirements of Chapter 11 of the California Code of Regulations, Title 22, Division 9 while the individual was on active duty. The documentation shall include verification from the individual's Commanding Officer attesting to the classes attended.
