Makenzie Ferguson, RN, is the Injury Prevention Educator for the Rady Children's Health Trauma Program. Her pediatric emergency and trauma nursing background focuses on injury prevention, education, and community outreach. She collaborates with EMS, schools, and other local partners to deliver evidence-based safety programs. Her goal is to keep children safe through prevention, provider education, and community engagement.

Kim Zaky, RN, has more than 20 years of experience in pediatric emergency, trauma, and burn care. She manages the Adult and Pediatric Burn Program at UC Irvine Health. Her experience includes establishing a pediatric-focused Base Station in Orange County. Her expertise includes improving prehospital pediatric readiness and implementing safe transfer processes through education and program development.
