Behavioral Health Services Act

The Behavioral Health Services Act, also known as BHSA, is a state law passed by voters in March 2024. BHSA updates the Mental Health Services Act \(MHSA\) by:

- Expanding service access to include treatment for people with substance use disorders,
- Prioritizing care for people with the most serious mental illness,
- Providing ongoing resources for housing and workforce development, and
- Continuing investments in prevention, early intervention, and innovative behavioral health pilot programs.

BHSA aims to close service gaps and ensure equitable access to quality care across the state. New BHSA requirements will also enhance oversight, transparency, and accountability at the state and local levels. BHSA includes many changes that will impact contracted programs across San Diego County. For more information on changes to contracted programs, visit the BHS Service Network Changes webpage.

Learn More About BHSA

Community Planning

BHSA requires counties to look at their whole behavioral health system of care through a formal Community Planning Process (CPP). The CPP supports the County of San Diego's goal to involve communities in meaningful conversations and decision-making about local behavioral health services to ensure programs reflect their unique needs and voices.

- Closing Gaps in Behavioral Health for Underserved Communities
Certain groups face major mental health and substance use disparities due to limited access, cultural barriers, and stigma, requiring targeted outreach and trust-building.
- Address Housing Instability and Basic Needs as Core Behavioral Health Factors
Housing instability and unmet basic needs drive behavioral health disparities and lead to undercounting of unhoused and economically marginalized populations in data systems.
- Communities Face Systemic and Cultural Barriers to Care
Systemic and cultural barriers such as stigma, transportation issues, insurance gaps, provider shortages, and complex healthcare navigation limit access to behavioral health care for vulnerable populations.
- Shift from Crisis-Driven Systems to Diversify Community Response
Behavioral health systems focus heavily on crisis response, limiting early intervention, and audience recommendations include expanding mobile outreach, creating centralized resource hubs for underserved areas and enhancing crisis stabilization services.
- Growing Concern of Law Enforcement in Accessing Services
Fear of immigration enforcement and insufficient funding hinder behavioral health access, highlighting the need for collaborative, trust-building approaches through education and partnerships with community and faith-based organizations.
- Adapt Data Systems to Fast Changing Local Trends
Fragmented and outdated data systems hinder timely behavioral health prevention and intervention, with gaps in immigrant and marginalized communities and lack of neighborhood-level insights, prompting calls for real-time resource mapping and integrated data across sectors.

a set of overarching goals and objectives to guide the Plan in the development of the Master Plan. A common thread through the Master Plan document involves investigation of how the Park can be maintained and enhanced in a way that supports the mission of the Audubon Commission and Audubon Nature Institute.

Audubon Commission and the Planning Team have identified the following organizing principles for the Audubon Park Master Plan:

- Preservation and Heritage
Sustain and enhance Audubon Park as a public amenity
- Education and Culture
Foster opportunities for education and community engagement
Celebrate the cultural heritage of the Park
- Access / Infrastructure
Investigate improvements to circulation / access
Recommend strategies for water management
- Recreation / Entertainment / Wellness
Evaluate use of recreational open space
Maintain and enhance exercise and athletic facilities
- 1 Environmental Stewardship
 - 1 Conserve and enrich the landscape and environment
 - Evaluate best horticultural practices for application
 - Preserve and augment tree canopy 1

Audubon Commission recognizes the importance of these principles as a means of organizing thoughts and discussions related to the Audubon Park Master Plan. These principles provide an outline for future work and a methodology of thinking that strives to maintain the Park's legacy of balance and harmony of uses to benefit the community and the environment.
