Children, Youth and Families (CYF) Provider Directory

The County of San Diego, Health and Human Services Agency (HHSA) Behavioral Health Services (BHS) administers behavioral health services for children, youth and families. CYF offers a wide continuum of services, from early intervention to residential and crisis services. All services provided are oriented to meet the unique linguistic and cultural needs of the public to be served. Services are provided through direct County-operated programs, and through contracts with community-based providers and individual fee-for-service providers.

The CYF Provider Directory describes services and resources for children, youth and families that are currently funded by the County of San Diego, which include County-operated and contracted programs.
