DATA GUIDE

Important Information for Data Users

For abbreviations used in data sources, see Data Sources.

One may want to consider several of these demographic factors when examining a health issue. Each Profile contains demographic data for each Region and SRA, including: age, gender, race/ethnicity distributions, income, occupation, housing, education, and other social/economic data. Many of these factors have been implicated at the roots of health disparities.

Geography: Understanding Geographic Units used in Health Data

Many different geographic units are used throughout San Diego County. In this document, boundaries for Regions and Subregional Areas (SRA) used here are based on census tracts and approximate Health and Human Service Agency Region (HHSA Region) boundaries which are based on zip codes.

Many data users have expressed the desire for community level data, beyond the HHSA Region (which are large aggregations of zip codes). Several levels of geography may be considered, such as Subregional Area, Census Tract, Zip Code, or City. In order to provide community level health data and compare populations, it is important to have stable geographic units and units that are compatible with population data estimates.

While most health and demographic data is reported by zip code, zip codes may change at any time throughout the year – making annual aggregated estimates difficult. Additionally, since zip codes may change from one year to the next, comparing zip code data over time may introduce a level of imprecision. Subregional Areas (SRAs) are small, community level geographic units based on census tracts which are stable between census years (i.e. change only every 10 years, if at all). Population estimates are available at this level with high level of accuracy. However, health demographic data for an SRA must be estimated based on reported zip code data.

Types of data available for Geographic Boundaries

Zip Codes:	Census Tracts:
HHSA Region	Subregional Area (SRA)
Health Services	Major Statistical Area (MSA)
	Region (approximated HHSA Region)

In this document community level (SRA) data is aggregated to larger regional levels. Currently, Region aggregations based on SRAs closely approximate, but do not directly correspond to HHSA Regions. In order to have more accurate community level data and enable reliable comparisons over time and place, SRA Region aggregations are used in lieu of HHSA Regions. Other data preparers that provide direct HHSA Region level data may differ slightly from the data presented here; however, any difference would not be expected to impact any decisions related to policy, planning, or resources for any particular area. There are 3 zip codes which are primarily affected by the differences in method of aggregation to Region or HHSA Region (see table below). A list of zip codes representing each Region is included at the beginning of the Region section within each Profile, as well as a complete listing in the County Demographic Profile.

Data Sources

Demographic data are available from a variety of sources, represented by three different categories of data. Population data, such as the census, is collected from the entire population. Sample or survey data are collected from a portion of the population, and extrapolated to represent the entire population. The following data sources were used in the preparation of this report.

American Community Survey (ACS): ACS is a new nationwide survey designed to provide communities a fresh look at how they are changing. It is intended to eliminate the need for the long form in the 2010 Census. The ACS collects information from U.S. households similar to what was collected on the Census 2000 long form, such as income, commute time to work, home value, veteran status, and other important data. Information is available by county.

San Diego Association of Governments (SANDAG): SANDAG creates and maintains a tremendous quantity of demographic, economic, land use, transportation and criminal justice information about the San Diego region. Demographic data includes population characteristics like age, education, and employment. SANDAG develops annual demographic estimates and long range forecasts in addition to maintaining census data files. Data is available by County, SRA, zip code, and census tract.
