Gentlemen and Ladies,

I am one of the many who object to the proposed development and feel that my voice be "heard".

It seems that the $18 million that was spent to discourage development will be a waste of good money. The impact of the size of this proposal is difficult to understand. The County has already revealed the "significant and unavoidable" detrimental impact it would make. The citizens who live in this area will be negatively impacted. Reasons to great to list. The developers state that "steps will be taken to lessen the impact". Unfortunately they won't be living with the mess that will be created. We have been through this in the recent past. What has changed? Certainly not the opinions of the citizens who have and are now objecting.

Those of us that live in the surrounding area feel the Planning Commission and the County Board of Supervisors must support us in our objections. No one objects to progress. It's the congestion that a development of this size will create.

Sincerely,

Resident of Hidden Meadows, Laura Walker
