

I8 Rowena Elliot

- I8-1 The comment states that no due diligence was done to determine how close a human can live to turbines that give off electro-magnetic fields (EMFs) and that the commenter's health is being affected (anxiety, cannot sleep, ringing ears, heartbeat affected, stomach hurts). In response, as discussed in Draft Environmental Impact Report Chapter 2.5, Section 2.5.3.5, Public Concerns of Health Effects, the California Public Utilities Commission has not established any connection between EMF exposure and negative health effects to humans. In addition, the 2019 County Public Health Position Statement determined that scientific, peer-reviewed literature on the subject has not concluded that there is a causal link between the EMFs generated by the operation of wind turbines and associated infrastructure and any health concerns. Please also refer to Response to Comment O7-7 and Global Response GR-2, Public Health.

INTENTIONALLY LEFT BLANK