INTRODUCTION

Brian F. Smith and Associates, Inc. (BFSA) conducted an archaeological assessment for the Liberty Bell Plaza Project to assess the potential for cultural resources within the Area of Potential Effect (APE). The proposed development consists of 82,300 square feet of commercial uses in seven buildings including 373 parking spaces, three driveways, and associated landscaping and infrastructure located on 8.49 acres. Aerial photographs indicate the property contained structures constructed during the mid- to late twentieth century; however, the APE is vacant but heavily disturbed by past development, demolition of previous structures, and use as a staging location for development on adjacent parcels. Vegetation on the property is sparse but consists of non-native grasses and trees.

RESULTS OF THE INSTITUTIONAL RECORDS SEARCHES AND RESEARCH

BFSA reviewed an archaeological records search for a one-mile radius around the project (Attachment B) that was conducted by BFSA at the South Coastal Information Center (SCIC) at San Diego State University (SDSU). The SCIC record search reported that no previously recorded archaeological sites exists within the project boundaries. Within a one-mile radius of the project, a total of 64 cultural resource locations have been recorded (Table 1). The previously recorded sites are primarily milling features sites (N=25) and milling feature sites with associated artifact scatters (N=10), which account for 55 percent of the recorded sites listed in Table 1. Thirteen sites are historic and three sites are multicomponent historic and prehistoric sites. The remaining sites consist of prehistoric isolates, artifact scatters, and residential camps (N=13). The majority of these sites are related to prehistoric food procurement and processing. In total, 40 cultural resource studies have been conducted within a one-mile radius of the project, six of which included the project APE (Chase 1984; Chace and Collins 1987; Wade 1990; Carol 1996; Eckhardt 2003; Foster and Gallegos 2008). Although identified by the SCIC maps as including the current study area none of the previous studies directly address the current APE parcels.

BFSA also reviewed the following historic sources:

- The National Register of Historic Places Index
- The Office of Historic Preservation, Archaeological Determinations of Eligibility
- The Office of Historic Preservation, Directory of Properties in the Historic Property Data File
- The USGS 7.5-minute Valley Center Quadrangle (1948)
- San Diego County Historic Roads Map (1769 to 1885)
- Official Map of San Diego County (1872)

BFSA requested a records search of the Sacred Lands File (SLF) by the Native American Heritage Commission (NAHC) (Attachment C). The SLF search indicated that no Native American sacred sites are recorded within the project APE. In accordance with the recommendations of the NAHC, BFSA contacted all Native American consultants listed in the NAHC response letter. As of the date of this report, four responses have been received: the Pauma Band of Luiseño Indians was unaware of any cultural sites within the project, but were interested in reviewing this study when completed; the San Luis Rey Band of Mission Indians requested a copy of the completed report; the Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians deferred consultation to other tribes in the area; and a representative of the Jamul Indian Village requested archaeological and geological tech reports for the project, as well as the related CHRIS file. Pursuant to Assembly Bill (AB) 52 consultation requirements, the County of San Diego has reached out to potentially affected tribes. Consultation will be ongoing throughout the discretionary processing of this project.

RESULTS OF THE FIELD SURVEY

The archaeological survey of the subject property was conducted on August 9, 2018. The intensive pedestrian survey was directed by Principal Investigator Brian F. Smith with assistance from Project Archaeologist Andrew Garrison. Native American monitor Michelle Nelson of Native Grounds was present for the cultural resources survey of the project. The entire project was accessible for the survey, which consisted of an intensive reconnaissance consisting of a series of parallel survey transects spaced at approximately five-meter intervals oriented from east-west across the property, as appropriate. Ground surface visibility was approximately 67 to 70 percent, with short non-native grasses and weeds, concrete, asphalt, modern trash and building material, construction debris, two large stockpiles of soil surrounded by jute waddle, and gravel obscuring ground visibility in some areas.

In general, the APE consists of a vacant but previously disturbed and partially developed property. Partial remnants of two concrete pads were noted. Aerial photographs of the property indicate the concrete pads were likely associated with structures located on the property during the mid- to late twentieth century, and would not qualify as significant resources under CEQA. Also noted on the property was a modern well, located within the northeast section of the APE. A man-made drainage runs east to west, bisecting the northern two-thirds of the APE from the southern section. Associated culverts direct water from the drainage under Valley Center Road off the property. Portions of the property appear to have been utilized for the staging for the development of nearby parcels as areas north of the APE appear to have been recently cleared and partially rough-graded. The northern and southern third of the property includes remnant silt fencing around the perimeter, as well as an entrance in the northern portion of the APE that is covered in crushed aggregate stone.

The pedestrian survey indicated that the majority of the property had been generally cleared and disturbed for several years. This characterization of the property as moderately to severely surficially disturbed is relevant to the consideration of cultural resources being present within the project. Many areas across the property have been disturbed for several decades for nearby development, along with the establishment and demolition of structures. When parcels are cleared, disked, or otherwise disturbed, evidence of surface artifact scatters is lost. Whether or not cultural resources have ever existed within this property, the current status of the area appears to have affected the potential to discover any surface scatters of artifacts. Photographs were taken to document project conditions at the time of the survey (see Plates 1 and 2). The survey did not result in the identification of any significant historic or prehistoric cultural resources.

The Phase I archaeological assessment for the Liberty Bell Plaza Project was negative for the presence of cultural resources. Based upon the results of the survey, no site-specific mitigation measures will be required. However, because of past disturbances on the property and the number of recorded sites in close proximity to the project APE, mitigation monitoring will be recommended as a condition of approval. Monitoring would be conditioned to include both an archaeologist and a Native American representative during grading.

Re: Liberty Bell Plaza, and Stampfl Project, San Diego County

Dear Mr. Garrison,

A record search of the Native American Heritage Commission (NAHC) Sacred Lands File (SLF) was completed for the information you have submitted for the above referenced project. The results were negative. However, the absence of specific site information in the SLF does not preclude the presence of cultural resources in any project area. Other sources for cultural resources should also be contacted for information regarding known and/or recorded sites.

Enclosed is a list of Native Americans tribes who may have knowledge of cultural resources in the project area. I suggest you contact all of those indicated, if they cannot supply information, they might recommend others with specific knowledge. By contacting all those listed, your organization will be better able to respond to claims of failure to consult with the appropriate tribe. If a response has not been received within two weeks of notification, the Commission requests that you follow-up with a telephone call to ensure that the project information has been received.

If you receive notification of change of addresses and phone numbers from any of these tribes, please notify me. With your assistance we are able to assure that our lists contain current information. If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact me at 916-573-1033 or frank.lienert@nahc.ca.gov.

Sincerely,

Mr. Stropes,

Thank you for your email notice for the Liberty Bell Project in Valley Center. We are unaware of any Cultural sites or resources on the project property. We are aware of Cultural sites to the Northwest, Southwest and East of the project. The Valley Center Inn was located on the property and has since been removed. I believe it was built prior to CEQA and Nagpra. We would be interested in seeing the Cultural Study once completed. Please keep us apprised on the progression of the project. Please contact us if there are any questions.

Thank you,

RE: SLR RESPONSE TO INQUIRY REGARDING POTENTIAL NEGATIVE IMPACTS TO TRIBAL CULTURAL RESOURCES FROM THE PROPOSED LIBERTY BELL PLAZA PROJECT AT 2755 VALLEY
CENTER ROAD, VALLEY CENTER, CA

Dear Mr. Stopes:

We, the San Luis Rey Band of Mission Indians ("Tribe") have received and reviewed your letter dated August 1, 2018 regarding a project known as the Liberty Bell Plaza Project in Valley Center, CA ("Project"). From your letter, the Tribe understands that the Project is located within the general vicinity of the area depicted on the map provided in your letter ("Project Area"). We further understand from your letter that you are inquiring whether the Tribe possesses any information and/or concerns regarding tribal cultural resources and/or Sacred Lands in the Project Area given your communications with the Native American Heritage Commission.

As you are aware, we are a northern San Diego County Tribe that is traditionally and culturally affiliated with Camp Pendleton, the current cities of Oceanside, Carlsbad, Vista, San Marcos and Escondido, as well as many unincorporated areas within northern San Diego County, such as the communities of Fallbrook, Bonsall and Valley Center. We are resolute in the preservation and protection of all tribal cultural resources within all these jurisdictions.

In regards to information our Tribe can provide BFSA regarding tribal cultural resources within the Project Area, we respectfully request that any further discussion be done in person. Please contact our Cultural Resource Manager Cami Mojado at (760) 917-1736 or via email at cjmojado@slrmissionindians.org to arrange a mutually acceptable meeting date and time.

Furthermore, the Tribe requests that any and all cultural resource surveys completed in the Project Area and/or for the benefit of this Project be provided to the Tribe's Cultural Department at 1889 Sunset Drive, Vista, CA 92081 as your earliest convenience. If digital copies are available, please send them directly to cjmojado@slrmissionindians.org. If a cultural resource survey has not been completed as of today's date, then the Tribe respectfully requests that a Luiseño Native American monitor be present during any proposed survey of the Project properties.

We appreciate this opportunity to provide information and/or share our concerns regarding this Project. We thank you for your assistance in protecting our invaluable Luiseño tribal cultural resources.

Sincerely,
