WRITTEN COMMENT FORM

I'm not much on essays, so here it is, blunt and to the point. A new big body of standing water will pull the water table away from established wells. Standing water breeds mosquitoes, which carry diseases. 15 years of this is a long time of steady bad news, to say nothing of the chemical pollution from both the industry and pest control. People! How much of our limited resources are we going to destroy for the sake of construction companies profits?
