

COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO CEQA CONSULANT LIST CONTINUING EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

To maintain good standing on the CEQA Consultants List, the following continuing education requirements must be met:

All subject areas:

- Annual attendance of at least one class, seminar, or workshop that covers recent legislation, interpretations of CEQA statute and State CEQA Guidelines, or a topic relevant to the applicable subject area.

Biology and Revegetation Planning:

- One time attendance of a County offered SanBIOS training. Created in 2009, the SanBIOS database serves as a single repository of species observations collected by private biological consultants and various departments within the County of San Diego's Land Use and Environment Group. Requirement is effective starting in 2010, when the first training will be offered.

Evidence of completion of the continuing education requirements will be a required item with the Statement of Qualifications - Application Renewal package. Approximately every four years, consultants are required to submit an updated Statement of Qualifications to apply for renewal of placement on the CEQA consultant list.
