

The William Gross House, constructed between 1906 and 1913, is a Craftsman style home with a brick fireplace, large overhanging gable roof, and both board and batten, and shingle siding.