What is CAT?

The CAT program is a multi-agency prevention and intervention program for families with school age youth (6-18), who are at risk of entering or continuing in the juvenile justice system.

Multi-disciplinary CAT programs are composed of case managers, alcohol & drug specialists, parent educators, and mental health professionals, who are linked to services in the San Diego area.

These teams provide assessment, prevention, intervention and referral services to identified at-risk youth and their families.

The San Diego County Probation
Department contracts with five community-based organizations to provide services and referrals for services through this program.

The goal of CAT shall be to provide services to reduce the number of youth who enter the juvenile justice system or re-offend while on probation by focusing on the unique strengths and needs of individual youths and supporting and teaching families how to access and receive community resources in a timely fashion.

What can the teams do?

Connect families to available community resources.

Provide a timely and comprehensive risk and resiliency assessment of youth and their families.

Develop a strength-based family service plan in partnership with families.

Monitor youth and family success and compliance with the family service plan.

Describe the juvenile court process and the legal responsibilities of minors and families.

Assist communities with identification of unmet needs and assist in the development of necessary support services.

Provide home visitation.

Provide crisis intervention 24 hours/7 days per week

School age youth, ages 6-18, who show signs of risk for entering or continuing in the juvenile justice system. Some risk factors are:

- Chronic behavior problems.
- ♦ Truancy related issues
- School disciplinary issues
- Family issues
- Out of control behavior
- Substance abuse problems
