Get Your Business Ready for El Niño

El Niño Business Preparedness

El Niño can bring heavy rain, flooding, strong winds, extreme heat and other severe weather to the San Diego region. Take action now to protect your employees, facilities and business operations from weather-related disruptions.

How to Prepare:

- Know Your Hazards: Check your property for flood-prone areas, review insurance and lease responsibilities, and document its condition with photos or videos before damage occurs.
- Protect Your Property: Reduce flood and storm damage by clearing drains and gutters, checking for roof leaks, securing outdoor equipment, and moving inventory, electronics, and important documents to higher ground.
- Plan for Business Disruptions: Prepare for disruptions by planning for power outages, road closures, supply delays, and temporary closures. Back up critical data and keep employee, supplier, and customer contacts accessible.
- Keep Employees Informed and Safe: Sign up for emergency alerts at AlertSanDiego.org, encourage employees and families to enroll, monitor weather forecasts, review emergency procedures, follow evacuation orders, and never drive through floodwater.
