I was trying to get a look at a Pre-mapping example for the Spring Valley area. In listening to the people who were speaking about our area, I am concerned that La Mesa, etal. were trying to pull us into their sphere of influence. These incorporated areas have never wanted to assist our area in the areas that concern us around their area. Being in District 2 for so long, we have managed to get some influence with the Supervisor as we are such a dense area. I am concerned that the proposed changes offered would eliminate any ability for us to remove some of the extensive blight that has been allowed by County Government over these many years. My attendance felt like being in a goldfish bowl without being able to know what is really going on. Is this just people thinking about changes or are there firm proposals? I don't understand much of what's going on as I didn't sign on until later in the meeting.

If you could let me know of the progress of the redistricting, I would appreciate it. It is almost impossible for some of us aged people to get anywhere on the County Website.

By the way, the gentleman on the right side of the tables looked so totally disinterested and almost asleep. It is insulting to me and those who are trying to be listened to. They took the time to attend and give input to you all but he might as well have said, "Don't bother me, it's time for my nap and I don't really care anywhere". Anyway thanks for your time and listening to this.
