Lakeside, Ramona and Alpine are sister communities.

We share a unincorporated country lifestyle of equestrian properties, our children share the same high schools and community organizations.

We continue to deserve an united voice of representation. Throughout the history of San Diego County we have always had an unincorporated East County district.

If you ask anyone or do any type of research on San Diego, you will find there has always been a North County, an East County, a South bay and the city. Please don't destroy our East County voice by removing our East County district and representation

- a) Lakeside, Ramona and Alpine share high schools, large rural lands with equestrian interests, hwy 67 is a critical connector for our communities and our businesses as well as interstate 8. We all share fire danger and
- b) We are sister communities and have never been split up in any district for county, state and federal districts.
- c) If you ask anyone who has visited here they will tell you our communities of interest in San Diego are East County, North County, South Bay and the City.
- d) County government is one of our most important forms of government as we do not have a city to provide for quality of life issues like public safety, fire and roads lumping us in with cities does not help us recieve our share of resources needed for our daily life.

- e) Barona is an important part of the Lakeside community and has been eliminated from our district.
- f) We need our East County district restored
