East County here on the border of Alpine: [REDACTED]. I have lived here since the early 80s and 33 years in this same house. Re-districting would transform the entire East County area from partially-rural (not a rural as it once was) into a concentrated populace. It's a nightmare in the making. We have our rodeo grounds that "city" people wouldn't appreciate. We have trails and hiking areas. We do not need more bike lanes, we have plenty and there's only a few bikers. Keep our area stand-alone from re-districting and introduction of "city" folk we don't need more of. All of East County, Lakeside, East El Cajon, Alpine and surrounding areas east of Los Coches.
