I grew up in National City and Chula Vista, we moved to Ramona to get out of the crowded environment those cities had. We have been in Ramona 24 years, and have found it is the most pleasant area in San Diego county. We shop mostly in El Cajon, Santee and Poway where like minded people are. Our way of life is much richer in these communities, much less crowded. To be lumped into the faster paced cities and population would severely impact ours and many others ways of life. We want representatives that understand that and would work to insure our safety and well being, instead of how to build bigger concrete structures. Thank you.
