I strongly oppose the proposed redistricting map because it breaks up communities of interest. The voters need to be able to choose the districts. Many voters have voiced their opposition to the proposed map.

I suggest rural areas not be grouped with high density cities because the areas have completely different needs. The property values could diminish as services and resources would be depleted by the more populous areas, with none left over for the larger unincorporated areas. Rural areas have different needs than coastal areas. School districts should not be divided. The unincorporated areas have traditionally had their own representation. Even zoning is different in the rural areas. Rental rates are different. The communities of east county have nothing in common with Hillcrest. Lakeside should not be split up.
