I am responding to a newly created map. I strongly support the maps outlined at this website: sdcountyredistrictingmap.org/supervisors.

When I first moved to San Diego, I lived in East County. The culture was better for raising my children and the rents were more affordable. My extended family has also been residing in East County since the early 1970's.

I strongly support the maps outlined at this website: sdcountyredistrictingmap.org/supervisors. This map keeps many of the East County sister communities together such as Lakeside, Alpine, Jamul, Santee, Poway, El Cajon, and Ramona. We have shared economic, social and cultural interests and we need to be kept together.

Our area is nothing like the coastal or downtown environments, which have higher density and problems with traffic, crime, and homelessness. Our services are provided by the county and we have large concerns for fire safety and water than the coastal cities. We drive our cars and trucks more than those in the city because of our jobs. City dwellers walk or use public transit.
