Please consider the purpose for redistricting and publish that first. What will it accomplish for the stakeholders of San Diego County? Are the boundaries going to combine areas with similar interests and concerns? If not, then should they? A logical approach demands a mission statement be created and approved first. You are fiduciaries to the stakeholder tax payers in San Diego County first and foremost. How can the interests of Ramona, Jamul, Alpine, Descanso, Warner Springs, be well represented if they are split apart and reshuffled in with coastal communities? The East County is concerned with wildfires, rural roads, power brown outs, agricultural interests. The coast is interested in mass transit, hi-density housing, crime. These are mutually exclusive concerns. Combining these areas into the same district is a complete dereliction of your duties to the tax payers.

Please develop a Mission Statement of purpose and approve that first. It will help you to develop a map that makes sense and better serves the people you represent.
