My name is Steve Poliza and I live in Elcajon. Thank you for your hard work and follow up, but I want to address something that you might not know about Chaldeans. We Chaldean are a very hard working people, we are religious, social, and love our neighbors. We love to gather with people from our community and we share our religion and culture, so seperating us from each other is just like taking the fish out of water and let her die, in other work you are killing us the Chaldean, so please kepp Chaldean of Elcajon acting and reacting with other Chaldean communities at Rancho San diego and spring valley and keeping Elkcajon in East county to live and thrive. Thank you.
