The new mapping that separates the East County communities should not be adopted for many reasons. Among those is the confusion it will create: Two examples: The Superior Court venue boundaries will be at odds with this new districting creating confusion and, I believe, resentment. And, there are many organizations named "East County..." based on operations in El Cajon and the sister cities (Santee, Lemon Grove) and neighborhoods. I am personally involved in both the courts and with East County Boys and Girls Clubs and can see a lot of problems with the proposal. Please consider the down sides of this proposal. Bill Fischbeck
