Greetings. I am 20+ year resident of Harmony Grove / Eden Valley, and I consider myself part of a 3-pronged united rural community that stretches from San Marcos to Escondido. We're the last of its kind, a rural community that is united in our values of conservation, independence, large animal keeping and maintaining a rural environment. People in Elfin Forest, Harmony Grove, and Eden Valley socialize together, fight battles together, find lost dogs or horses together, and help each other out in a time of need. We are represented by one Planning Group and for our entire area, plus an area Town Council too. We've fought many fires together and cried together when we lost neighboring homes. We have spent many volunteer hours together advocating for preserving our small communities and celebrated together our court victories. We have contributed mutual community volunteer hours together, and money to fund our causes together. We ride horses and have barn-parties together. All three areas together are "birds of a feather", valuing our rural zoning that is like no other community in San Diego County. I strongly oppose our community being split apart at the suggestion of folks who have no connection to our community. I also strongly oppose being lumped into an east county district. We have no association with east county. We have been associated with the city of San Marcos, Escondido, Olivenhain and Rancho Santa Fe for decades and our links are longstanding. Whether we are put in a coastal district or a north county district, it is superior to being placed in East County.

We are, and must be seen as one community area TOGETHER... which is NOT East County!

Thanks for your consideration,

Janean Huston
