Because my cell has another area code I was concerned it would be rejected as a comment. I live in East Fallbrook and would like to know one reason why Carlsbad and Carlsbad Airport interests should outweigh the desires of the people who live in the areas of Escondido, Vista and Greater Fallbrook? Without a vote you can cut out the unincorporated communities which S.D. County has been treating these communities with a different aesthetic because we are independent and prefer things as they are?

As unincorporated communities we have been a step child for SS County and this appears to be happening yet again. Why on earth would Carlsbad and Carlsbad Airport think that all of a sudden we are that important in Escondido, Vista and Greater Fallbrook to change the balance? Is there an incentive unstated in this move that is not better for those communities people want to break apart after years of trust and connection have been established. What is the reason or decency in that?
