Of the two proposed maps 13A and 14 - the map which gives the rural, unincorporated population a voice on the County Board of Supervisors is Map 13A v.1. The two supervisor districts encompassing the rural areas in Map 13A v.1 are correctly partnered with their historical and present-day suburban/urban sister cities. For example, the rural, unincorporated community of Ramona has a long, ongoing relationship with the City of Poway. The rural, unincorporated community of Valley Center has a long, ongoing relationship with the City of Escondido. Map 13A v.1 is a map that makes sense for the unincorporated, rural areas of San Diego County. I am the Chair of the Ramona Community Planning Group; however, this opinion is my own.
