REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION INFORMATION

Persons with disabilities may request a reasonable accommodation in order to make full use of rental assistance programs and any related services. The Housing Authority of the County of San Diego (HACSD) will make all reasonable efforts to be flexible in assisting persons with disabilities to participate in the programs successfully. All requests for accommodation will be verified to ensure that the accommodation is reasonable.

Examples of reasonable accommodations are as follows but not limited to:

- Home visits if your disability prevents you from coming to the HACSD office.
- Telecommunications Devices for the Deaf (TDD) or (TTY), a telecommunications program for the disabled and deaf.
- The use of an advocate or interpreter.

Examples of reasonable accommodations for Voucher extensions up to a maximum of an additional 90 days are as follows but not limited to:

- Hospitalization or a family emergency for an extended period of time, which has affected the family from being able to find a unit within the initial 90-day period. Verification is required and request for extension must be received prior to the expiration date of the Voucher.

For more information, please contact your Housing Representative listed below.

Thank you.
