Dear Central Region Faith Based Community and Service Providers:

In February of this year, we embarked on a Behavioral Health Service (BHS) Faith Based Community Dialogue Initiative to both understand the faith communities’ concerns related to mental health, wellbeing, and recovery, and to share available County services and supports. The County of San Diego Health and Human Services Agency (HHS), acknowledges the faith community as an essential partner who can respond, develop, and implement prevention and early intervention strategies, services and supports to its community. These efforts align and connect with Live Well San Diego, the County’s 10-year initiative to build a healthy, safe and thriving community. Faith leaders are a consistent source of support, caring, and counseling for their congregants. As such, they are often the first responders and are key advocates to link congregants to needed mental health and alcohol and drug services.

We purposefully chose the word “dialogue” to characterize this initiative because of its very definition: “an exchange of ideas and opinions.” This initiative brought together over the past year numerous faith leaders, advocates, and service providers to begin to define how the County, communities of faith, and service providers can work together in partnership. The year of discussion and exchange has been an important learning opportunity for our division. This initiative and community dialogue is a critical step in developing a shared understanding, purpose and goal(s). This process and initiative will be a long term initiative and BHS is committed to continuing the community dialogue to develop shared goals as an important means to improving services to Central Region residents.

This Resource Compendium is a culmination of this planning effort and the BHS Central Region Faith Based Community Dialogue Breakfast: Healing Hearts and Minds that summarizes our work over the past year. I thank the many faith leaders, community members, service providers, advocates, and County staff who gave their time, heart and mind in this initiative. I also thank Handler & Company Community Research in their support of this process.

I look forward to the next phase of this initiative, and in working in partnership with all of you to improve the health and wellbeing of our Central Region.

Sincerely,

Alfredo Aguille, LCSW

In February of 2013, San Diego County Health and Human Services, Behavioral Health Services Division (BHS), launched a Faith Based Initiative to develop a partnership with faith congregations, communities and with BHS service providers. The impetus for this initiative was multi-fold; the need to include the faith based communities in an inclusive process as they play a significant and critical role in many African-American and Latino lives. Faith leaders are a consistent source of support, caring, and counseling, and are frequently the first responders during stressful times or personal struggles. In addition, BHS data demonstrated that African-American and Latino individuals are accessing disproportionately mental health services for the first time in jail or in acute hospital settings. BHS contends that prevention and early intervention strategies can reverse this trend, with early identification combined with culturally relevant prevention and early intervention services in partnership with the Faith Based community. As a result BHS embarked on this initiative as a possible solution to these concerns.

The initiative began with a planning effort to bring Faith Leaders, BHS providers and interested community stakeholders together via monthly Central Faith Based Community Dialogue Planning Workgroup meetings held to advance the initiative and plan a Community Dialogue Breakfast. In addition an extensive outreach effort with faith based leaders was initiated to develop partnerships that would identify needs and gaps and highlight what the Faith congregations and community providers were currently doing to address wellness, mental health, alcohol and other drug related issues, as well as other community issues and concerns in their communities. The purpose of the Community Dialogue Breakfast was to provide a forum to bring faith-based congregations together with mental health and substance-abuse service providers to consolidate the input and feedback received to date. This convening would both provide opportunities to develop a shared language and understanding of the issues and to continue to develop partnerships between service providers and faith communities, as well as bring to the surface solutions that could be supported by a long term initiative at BHS. The Planning Workgroup identified throughout its process a diverse faith community. This diversity is characterized by:

- Many faiths and denominations. African American and Latino communities are comprised of many faiths (e.g., Christian, Muslim). Within the Christian faith, practices and denominational structures (e.g., Catholic, Southern Baptist, Pentecostal) are very different and these denominations may not naturally convene.
- Differing congregational size and capacity. Congregations vary from small (no more than 50 individuals) with minimal infrastructure to large (over 1000 families) with resources and infrastructure to launch new initiatives and programs on their congregants behalf.
- Varied organized collaborations. Within the Central Region, there are numerous connecting points where congregations convene for mutual benefit (e.g., San Diego Organizing Project, Pastors on Point, United Ministerial Action Council, Interfaith Committee for Worker Justice of San Diego County) and county faith based committees (San Diego District Attorney’s Interfaith Advisory Board, Suicide Prevention Action Plan Committee’s Faith Outreach Organizing subcommittee). Some congregations are part of multiple connecting point organizations, others remain unaffiliated.

As the initiative progressed and BHS understanding of the faith community landscape deepened there were course of action changes that helped to solidify the development of the initiative. The Planning Group meetings were held at BHS and included county staff, service providers, and faith leaders. BHS brought on board a technical assistance contractor (Harder + Company Community Research) which coordinated and facilitated the outreach in the Central Region’s faith communities to broaden participation. A three step process for the project was implemented: discover, create, and do (see Exhibit 1). This process recognized that the various different faith, faith and service providers (their diversity represented by the different circles in the exhibit) must be individually and personally outreached to discover their interest, receive input and feedback, identify partnership opportunities, uncover challenges and barriers and invite Faith leaders to participate in the planning effort and in the Community Dialogue Breakfast (later renamed the "Healing Hearts and Minds Breakfast" at the suggestion of faith leaders). The outreach and engagement process also clearly identified that the solution to improving health and well-being in the communities was not the Breakfast itself, but the process and the long-term commitment of BHS and the Faith based communities to develop and sustain long-term partnerships.

Exhibit 1: Overall approach for the Faith Based Community Dialogue process

As part of the Discover phase, the County, with the technical support of Harder+Company, continued to convene the Planning Group to address issues and concerns brought to the table and to plan the agenda and details of the community dialogue breakfast forum. In order to expand the engagement of faith leaders, the technical consultants in conjunction with BHS leaders conducted one-on-one or group meetings with different congregations using a "snowball approach" (i.e., meeting participants provided suggestions for congregations and faith leaders who would be interested in the dialogue who were then contacted for a meeting). Individuals during these meetings suggested forming a faith leader only group (later called the Faith Leader Engagement Group) to meet at local community locations and create a "safe space" to discuss the topic of mental health with their peers. As these Faith Leader Engagement Group meetings gained momentum and became more formalized, the group began to outline the needs and actions that could be pursued in developing a stronger faith based and county partnership. These results were presented to the larger Planning Group before the Breakfast and became the central organizing principles for small group work during the Breakfast event. The results of the small group work are presented later in this report.

There were a number of other activities that BHS pursued concurrent to the Planning Group and Faith Leader Engagement Group meetings. These activities were in response to issues raised by both groups. Key issues included:

- Step 1: Discover
  - BHS, faith leaders, and service providers talk about how to improve access to behavioral health services

- Step 2: Create
  - BHS, faith leaders, and the service providers learn, network, and envision what is needed to develop faith based partnerships

- Step 3: Do
  - BHS and community partners work together to increase access to health services.

The following page provides a timeline for the Community Dialogue Breakfast forum with key steps, events, and meetings.
During outreach efforts, Harder + Company mapped the collaborations within the Central Region’s faith community. The Central Region has a number of “connecting points” for faith leaders, ranging from denomination-specific conferences to groups of churches that convene to address common issues of concern. The diagram below outlines part of the Central Faith community eco-system (including those organized by faith leaders, nonprofits, or the County). There are many more collaborations, connecting points, and hundreds of individual congregations that should be included during the next phase of the San Diego Faith Based Community Dialogue.

The purpose of displaying the currently known connecting points by BHS is to provide a starting point for ongoing conversation and broadening the network of faith communities who can partner with behavioral health service providers to improve health and well-being of the community.

Summary of the Healing Hearts and Minds Breakfast

On October 28, 2013, approximately 130 individuals representing faith communities and service providers participated in the Healing Hearts and Minds Breakfast forum. The purpose of the breakfast was to build on the Planning Group efforts to date and to broaden and strengthen a stronger working relationship between faith communities, faith leaders, service providers, and the County. The first half of the morning featured presentations by County leadership and a panel of faith leaders, family members, and providers who discussed from their perspective their concerns, experiences and involvement with faith based communities and the mental health system as well as their healing experiences. The second half of the morning was devoted to small work group discussions with the purpose of developing strategies that could be pursued as part of the ongoing Faith Based Community Dialogue initiative. The following summary overviews the key points from the day.

Key themes from speakers and panelists

Welcome and Purpose: Participants were welcomed by Alfredo Aguirre (Director of San Diego County Behavioral Health Services) and Piedad Garcia (Assistant Deputy Director of Behavioral Health Services). Pastor Jesus Sandoval (New Harvest Church) gave the welcoming prayer. Supervisor Ron Roberts gave personal testimony to the effects of mental illness in his family and Alfredo Aguirre provided comments on the importance of a partnership between existing service providers, the County of San Diego and the faith communities to build community wellness.

Panel Presentation: The panel discussed how faith based approaches support mental health and well-being and answered breakfast attendee questions. In addition, participants were invited to submit questions to the panel. Highlights from the panelist, in the order they presented, include:

- Piedad Garcia (Assistant Deputy Director of Behavioral Health Services). Dr. Garcia discussed the importance of the faith community as first responders to mental health issues and the support and solace they provide. She noted that faith leaders need support and the tools to understand how to identify mental health concerns and how to address them through stronger partnerships with mental health service providers. The County is committed to continuing this conversation past this breakfast.

- Daphyne Watson, Executive Director of Mental Health Services (MHA). Ms. Watson emphasized that outreach within the faith community is delicate. Overcoming the stigma of mental illness requires a broad community effort in which faith leaders better understand how to identify and support those with mental health needs, and service providers understand how to connect to churches to provide necessary prevention and intervention services. Ms. Watson noted a key to this support is Mental Health First Aid (a public education program that helps the public identify, understand, and respond to signs of mental illnesses and substance use disorders). She noted that every church and community should be reached with this training.

- Anita Fischer (National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI). Ms. Fischer is both a NAMI family advocate and is a parent of someone living with mental illness. She shared her personal testimony about the difficulty of acknowledging her son’s mental health concerns to her church. She first attempted to find services outside of her faith community, but recognized that mental illness is a family condition and there is a strong need to include the family, and the faith community, in treatment and care. She noted that once she acknowledged her situation to her church, she received the support she needed to help with the healing process.

- Pastor Cornelius Bowser (Charity Apostolic Church and Community Assistance Support Team, CAST). Pastor Bowser discussed the important role service providers play in mental well-being and that this is more profound when it is in support of the individual’s religious beliefs and faith. By partnering with faith communities, service providers have a powerful ally for improving well-being. Partnerships between the faith community and service providers will improve access to and delivery of mental health services and improve client self-management of mental health issues.

- Reverend Gerald Brown (Christ Church of San Diego and the United African American Ministerial Action Council (UAAMAC). Reverend Brown observed that faith leaders are currently first responders to mental health issues and currently provide critical ongoing support for their community members. They respond to issues related to homicide, suicide, self-harm, and gang membership without the assistance of trained service providers. He called on the need for the County of San Diego to work more collaboratively and closely with the faith community, including consideration of resourcing faith leaders as first responders. He noted that this ongoing collaboration should be driven by a meaningful, community-informed action plan.

FORUM THEME

To educate and identify mental health and substance abuse prevention and early intervention resources and strategies between faith based congregations, the County of San Diego’s Behavioral Health Services Division and community leaders to improve wellbeing and access to services in the African-American and Latino community.

Themes from Small Group Work

During the second part of the morning, Breakfast attendees were asked to stay at their tables, which were assigned at registration to ensure a mix of faith leader, service provider, and County staff. Each work group table was asked to review, refine, and add to the themes for ongoing engagement initially identified by the Faith Leader Engagement Group. Each workgroup reported out the emerging themes to the larger gathering. The technical consultants reviewed and analyzed responses (presented in Appendix C), refined in emerging themes (shown below) and included specific attendee-identified actions that could be pursued in the second phase of San Diego’s Central Region Faith Based Initiative.

- Acute Psychiatric Inpatient Services for Children and Adolescents. Provides contracted inpatient psychiatric hospitalization services for children and youth experiencing mental health emergencies. These services must be referred through the ESU.
In conclusion, the second phase of the BHS and Faith Based initiative will include the following next steps:

1. Restructure Behavioral Health Services (BHS) and Faith Based Planning Work Group into a BHS and Faith Based Partnership Committee (final name to be determined by the membership) that will meet monthly to address next steps in advancing BHS and Faith Based Initiative.
3. BHS to continue to explore a more inclusive process in the contracting process to increase participation of Faith based community organizations in the delivery of services.

Key elements to ongoing Dialogue:

- Openness and mutual respect
- Transparency
- Strengthen personal relationship and rapport
- Clarity of purpose and goals
- Hold meetings in the community
- Schedule meetings at times convenient to the faith community
- Pursue an interfaith approach

The tables below present the listing of the individuals who participated in the Planning Group and the Faith Leader Engagement Group based on sign in sheets. There were many other individuals who participated in one-on-one conversations, but we did not receive approval to share their names. Thus, we extend a heart-felt thank you to all who participated and look forward to your continued participation in the next phase of the dialogue.

s reported by the California Department of Mental Health, counties throughout California have focused on finding effective, collaborative means to inquire about, embrace, and support the spiritual lives of the people it serves. Spirituality and religion can be important components of recovery, and they have too often been overlooked, minimized, and many times labeled as pathology, leaving consumers with little hope for themselves and their futures. For this reason, the State of California launched the California Mental Health & Spirituality Initiative in June 2008 through voluntary financial contributions from 51 of the County Behavioral Health authorities in California, including San Diego County (http://www.mhspirit.org/). The Initiative is a non-profit entity based at the Center for Multicultural Development at the California Institute for Mental Health in Sacramento, California. There is broad support among County Behavioral Health Directors for the inclusion of spirituality in mental health services in California – in prevention, treatment, and as part of multicultural competency. The Initiative’s goals include increasing awareness of spirituality as a potential resource in mental health prevention, early intervention, and recovery. The Statewide initiative encourages collaboration among faith-based organizations; mental health services providers, consumers, family members, and communities in combating stigma and reducing disparities in access to services for diverse populations (California Institute of Mental Health, 2009).

Additionally, many counties have pursued their own faith-based initiatives. As part of this project, Harder+Company contacted several counties with faith based initiatives to inform the process of developing San Diego’s approach. In the tables below are brief summaries of these counties, including a brief overview of its mission and contact information.

Mental Health Liaisons continuously expand county’s working relationships with the faith community, health providers, schools and other “first responders” to trauma to expand methods for rapid response and access to early intervention for those involved in traumatic events. The Project is designed to strengthen underserved cultural communities in ways that are relevant to specific communities, in order to increase wellness, to reduce stress and isolation, to reduce the likelihood of needing services of many types, and to help support strong young and strong families through improvement of communication within families. This includes family members of all ages. System navigation education and support was also a preferred strategy for underserved cultural communities.</td>
